

“What a delightful performance! Patrick Boyd, as Don Lockwood in the musical Singin’ In The Rain, made a huge splash opening night at the Merry-Go-Round Theatre. The role was originally played by Gene Kelly in the 1952 film version. Boyd owned it Wednesday night in the Auburn production.”

“The acting, singing, and dancing from Patrick Boyd is absolutely flawless. Boyd is perfect as the silent film star. He has a suave confidence that is immediately appealing, and shows terrific vocal range and dance ability.”
